

A PERSIAN LAWN FROCK.

Dainty and Simple Dress for a Little Maid.

Child's Dress, No. 763—Simplicity characterizes this dainty dress of white Persian lawn, the tuckings and embroidery with its decorations furnishes the trimming of the finest quality.

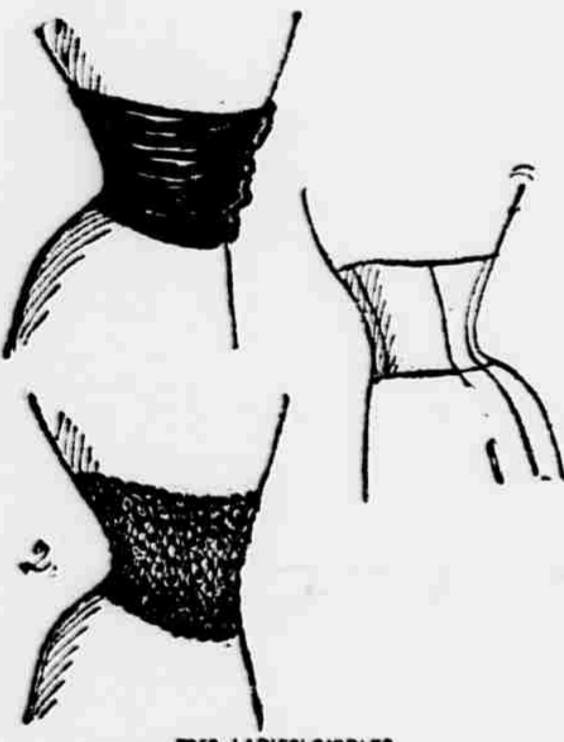

The straight full skirt is deeply hemmed, the waist being stretched just above the hem. Gathered up at the waist is a belt top, which is joined to separate voice portions that meet in shoulder seams and close them back.

The front yoke cut from pleated tuckings has a band of insertion applied through the center front between the tuckings. This yoke collar is made separately so as to allow for a larger or smaller width and is included in the seam with the collar band insertion. The front edges are completed with a band of colored silk or organza being turned over and gathered edge, the ends of which are tucked down over the binding yoke.

The full yoke is of the material edged with lace and lace insertion may be used in place of the embroidery.

Serviceable frocks of colored saphire, periwinkle, Maltese, pearl, etc., can be had with all-over embroidery or tucking, are exceedingly effective for the little ones.

To make this dress for a child 2 years of age.

STOCK TO BE DISTRIBUTED.

Brown Brothers' Certificates Will Be Taken Up.

Holders of subscription certificates of beneficial interest in the St. Louis street railways syndicate will receive their statement of common stock of the St. Louis Transit Company and preferred stock of the United Railways Company to-day.

Brown Brothers have this year, at the same time paid a dividend on the preferred stock of 14 per cent. The bonds distributed at that time amount to $10,654,416. There will be a call for the preferred stock of which will be paid to certificate holders as soon as the accounts of the syndicate can be settled.

The distribution of common and preferred stock will also be made to holders of Matlock Trust Company's certificates, and the St. Louis street railways will promptly return to the company its local capital as a large majority of the stock is held in this city.

According to the returns for the first quarter of 1900 a total of 132,289 trips were made and 29,941,526 passengers carried, as compared with 128,034 trips and 27,526,899 passengers for the first quarter of 1899.

TRIBUTE TO CHARLES HODGMAN.

The Round Table mourns the loss of a well-loved Member.

The Round Table has adopted the following memorial on the life and character of the late Charles Hodzman.

The Round Table has heard with deep emotion the announcement of the death of our dear and valued friend and brother, Charles Hodzman, one of the founders of the club, and from this day of his organization it will be a period of grief and sorrow.

It is due to friendship and justice that the Round Table cherish the memory of its most characteristic and useful member.

For eighteen years he was a member of its business ability, social enthusiasm and enthusiastic labor, freely and loyally expending his talents for the benefit of the club.

He gave his life to the club, and his unquenchable vivacity and by his keen and unrestrained enjoyment of the society of his friends, he has given to the organization the best of his time over a period of many years.

He has helped to maintain its whole-some atmosphere. The high estimation in which he was held by the Board Table is shown by the fact that he was elected to its organization the day of his death by a unanimous vote.

He was a member of the Round Table for twenty years, and his name is still a household word.
